

REMARKS

The foregoing Corrected Listing of Claims is believed to meet the requirement of the notice of non-compliance. The corrections are identified below.

The status identifiers of each claim have not been changed compared to the listing of claims provided with the amendment of April 28, 2006. However, the following claim has been corrected to conform it to the status identifier:

Claim 17 retains its "Previously Presented" identifier but on line 9 "form" is changed to the original "from."

The other claims have been reviewed and are believed to be correct in their form and identifier as presented with the amendment filed on April 28, 2006.

The discrepancy is regretted. It is believed that the attached listing of claims is complete and accurate in all respects.

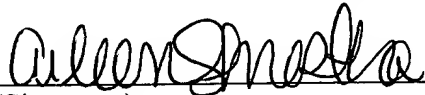

This is a response to a second notice of non-compliant amendment, the first having been issued on April 13, 2006 in response to the amendment filed on January 23, 2006. The discrepancy in this case was a transposition error involving two letters in the word "from." It is respectfully suggested that the prosecution of this case would have been expedited if the examiner had prepared a substantive office action and noted the discrepancy for correction by the applicant in a later paper or perhaps by examiner's amendment. This is the practice followed by some other art units and it is recommended to the Examiner in this case.

Conclusion

In view of the above, the Applicant submits that the application is now in condition for allowance and respectfully urges the Examiner to pass this case to issue. The Examiner is respectfully invited to telephone the undersigned attorney as needed in order to advance the examination of this application.
